The most eastward of the debilitated edifices of Six Crossroads was the saloon. It bore the painted legends, on the west wall, "Last Chance." Next to this and separated by two or three acres of weedy vacancy from the corners, where the population centered thickest, stood—if one may so predicate of a building which leaned in seven directions—the house of Mr. Robert Skillet, the proprietor of the saloon. Both buildings were shut up as tight as their state of repair permitted. As they were farthest to the east, they formed the nearest shelter, and to them the Crossroadsers lent their flight, though they stopped not here, but disappeared behind Skillet's shanty, putting it between them and their pursuers, whose guns were beginning to speak. The fugitives had a good start, and, being the picked runners of the Crossroads, they crossed the open, weedy acres in safety and made for their homes. Every house had become a fort, and the defenders would have to be fought and torn out one by one. As the guns sounded, a woman in a shanty near the forge began to scream and kept on screaming.

On came the farmers and the men of Plattville. They took the saloon at a run, battered down the crazy doors with a fence rail and swarmed inside like busy insects, making the place hum like a hive, but with the better industries of destruction. It was empty of life as a tomb, but they beat and tore and battered and broke and hammered and shattered like madmen; they reduced the tawdry interior to a mere chaos and came pouring forth laden with trophies of ruin, and then there was a charry smell in the air, and a slender feather of smoke floated up from a second story window.

At the same time Watts led an assault on the adjoining house, an assault which came to a sudden pause, for from cracks in the front wall a squirrel rifle and a shotgun snapped and banged, and the crowd fell back in disorder. Homer Tibbs had a hat blown away, full of buckshot holes, while Mr. Watts solicitously examined a small aperture in the skirts of his brown coat. The house commanded the road, and the rush of the mob into the village was checked, but only for the instant.

A rickety woodshed which formed a portion of the Skillet mansion closely joined the "Last Chance" side of the family place of business. Scarcely had the guns of the defenders sounded when, with a loud shout, Lige Willets leaped from an upper window on that side of the burning saloon and landed on the woodshed and, immediately climbing the roof of the mansion itself, applied a brand to the dry, time worn clapboards. Ross Schofield dropped on the woodshed close behind him, his arm lovingly infolding a gallon jug of whisky, which he emptied (not without evident regret) upon the clapboards as Lige fired them. Flames burst forth almost instantly, and the smoke, uniting with that now rolling out of every window of the saloon, went up to heaven in a cumulous, gray column.

As the flames began to spread there was a rapid fusillade from the rear of the house, and a hundred men and more, who had kept on through the fields to the north, assailed it from behind. Their shots passed clear through the flimsy partitions, and there was a screaming like beasts' howls from within. The front door was thrown open, and a lean, fierce eyed girl, with a case knife in her hand, ran out in the face of the mob. At sound of the shots in the rear they had begun to advance on the house a second time, and Hartley Bowlder was the nearest man to the girl. With awful words and shrieking inconceivably, she made straight at Hartley and attacked him with the knife. She struck at him again and again, and in her anguish of hate and fear she was so extraordinary a spectacle that she gained for her companions the seconds they needed to escape from the house. As she hurled herself alone at the oncoming torrent they sped from the door unnoticed, sprang over the fence and reached the open lots to the west before they were seen by Willets from the roof.

"Don't let 'em fool you!" he shouted. "Look to your left! There they go! Don't let 'em get away!"

The Crossroadsers were running across the field. They were Bob Skillet and his younger brother, and Mr. Skillet was badly damaged. He seemed to be holding his jaw on his face with both hands. The girl turned and sped after them. She was over the fence almost as soon as they were, and the three ran in single file, the girl last. She was either magnificently sacrificial and fearless or she cunningly calculated that the regulators would take no chances of killing a woman-child, for she kept between their guns and her two companions, trying to cover and shield the latter with her frail body.

"Shoot, Lige," called Watts. "If we fire from here we'll hit the girl. Shoot!"

Willets and Ross Schofield were still standing on the roof at the edge out of the smoke, and both fired at the same time. The fugitives did not turn. They kept on running, and they had nearly reached the other side of the field when suddenly, without any preliminary gesture, the elder Skillet dropped flat on his face. The Crossroadsers stood by each other that day, for four or five men ran out of the nearest shanty into the open, lifted the prostrate figure from the ground and began to carry it back with them. But Skillet was alive. His curses were heard above all other sounds. Lige and Schofield fired again, and one of the rescuers staggered. Nevertheless as the two men slid down from the roof the burdened Crossroadsers were seen to break into a run, and at that, with another yell, fiercer, wilder, more joyous than the first, the Plattville men followed.

The yell rang loudly in the ears of old Wilkerson, who had remained back in the road, and at the same instant he heard another shout behind him. He had not shared in the attack; but, greatly preoccupied with his own historic affairs, was proceeding alone up the pike, except for the unhappy yellow mongrel still dragged along by the rope, and alternating, as was his natural wont, from one fence to the other, crouching behind every bush and firing an imaginary rifle at the dog and then springing out with triumphant howlings to fall prone upon the terrified animal. It was after one of these victories that a shout of warning was raised behind him, and Mr. Wilkerson, by grace of the god Bacchus, rolling out of the way in time to save his life, saw a horse dash by him, a big, black horse whose polished flanks were dripping with lather. Warren Smith was the rider. He was waving a slip of yellow paper high in the air.

Colorado Guards Called Out.

Denver, Colo., March 23.—Orders were issued by Gov. Peabody for the entire national guard of the state, numbering approximately 2,000, to be prepared for service at three hours' notice. No information was given out as to what service will be required of the troops, but it is unofficially announced that 300 men under command of Maj. Hill will be sent to the southern coal fields to protect negroes who have been hired to take the places of the striking coal miners.

VICTORIOUS JAPS

It Is Now Stated That Blockade of Port Arthur Is Effective.

HEAVY BOMBARDMENT

Admiral Togo's Fleet Renewed the Attack and Was Met With Vigorous Resistance.

While the Outcome Is in Doubt It Is Reported in Tokio That the Port Fell.

Tokio, March 23.—It is rumored that the Japanese have succeeded in blockading the entrance to Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, March 23.—Japanese torpedo boats appeared off Port Arthur at midnight of the night of March 21-22 and the shore batteries and guardships shelled them for twenty minutes. The Japanese retreated but re-appeared four hours later when they met with the same reception, when they retired again. At 6 a. m. a Japanese squadron of two divisions composed of four and seven ships, and accompanied by eight torpedo boats, appeared and the Russian squadron sallied out from the outer roadstead to meet them. No further details regarding the action are obtainable.

At 9 a. m. the Japanese battleships having fired several shots at Liaotshin and sheltered behind the promontory commenced a bombardment of Port Arthur.

All information which has reached St. Petersburg shows that the defenders of Port Arthur had taken seriously to heart the coup of the Japanese torpedo boats at the beginning of the war and were now maintaining a sharp lookout.

The Japanese torpedo boats were twice discovered sneaking towards the harbor entrance under cover of darkness but both times they were detected far out at sea and were driven off by the hot fire opened upon them. The breaking of day necessarily prevented further torpedo boat operations, but Admiral Togo brought up his battleships and cruisers. The division of his fleet was for the purpose of making a cross-fire upon the harbor in the hope of destroying the town and of damaging the Russian ships lying in the basin or at least of demoralizing the personnel of the defending force.

The bombardment of March 9 showed to the Russians the advantage to the enemy of the position of Liaotshin which Vice Admiral Togo's ships took up yesterday morning, and Vice Admiral Makaroff sought to minimize this advantage by so stationing the battleship Retvizan that her shells could reach the Japanese battleships. The fact that the Retvizan was used for this purpose proves the falsity of the report that her great guns had been removed and installed as a battery at Pigeon bay and it has given rise to the impression that there is an inadequacy of great guns at Port Arthur so otherwise the battery would have been erected to protect the town at the only point which Vice Admiral Togo seems to regard as vulnerable from the sea.

When the first official dispatches were received the belief gained ground that Vice Admiral Makaroff had put to sea and that a naval fight had taken place. While this would be in keeping with his character as an intrepid officer, which is further indicated by his use of a cruiser as his flag ship, it was not in accord with the plans of the Russian authorities. Later advices established the fact that the admiral had simply gone with the undamaged portion of his fleet to the outer roads where he could more effectively support the batteries and at the same time take advantage of any weakness which might develop in the enemy's attack.

THE LATEST BOMBARDMENT

Is the Subject of Report From Vice-roy Alexieff.

St. Petersburg, March 23.—The emperor has received the following telegram from Vice-roy Alexieff: "Lieut. Gen. Stoessel reports that at midnight of March 21 Japanese torpedo boats were discovered by our searchlights. Our guard ships and fort batteries opened fire upon them, the firing lasting twenty minutes. At 4 o'clock in the morning the attack was renewed. At 6:30 o'clock in the morning four of the enemy's ships appeared from the south, followed by the whole squadron of eleven ships and eight torpedo boats. Our squadron left the roadstead to meet the enemy. At 9 o'clock the enemy's battleships opened fire on Liaotshin, after which they took up a position behind the rocky eminence of Liaotshin and bombarded Port Arthur." Vice-roy Alexieff adds that he is waiting for details. A later dispatch from the vice-roy to the emperor says: "According to a supplementary report from Lieut. Gen. Stoessel, the enemy's fleet consisted of six battleships and twelve cruisers. About 9 o'clock in the morning the fleet divided, the battleships and torpedo boats taking up a position between Liaotshin and Pigeon bay; while the cruisers formed up in two divisions to the south and southeast of Port Arthur. At 9:30 the battleship Retvizan opened fire over the crest of Liaotshin against the enemy's battleships, which replied by firing on the town. Meanwhile our fleet formed up in line in the outer roadstead. About 11 o'clock in the morning the cannonade slackened, and the Japanese fleet reuniting drew off slowly to the southeast and at 12:30 disappeared. During the bombardment five soldiers were killed and nine were wounded. One soldier on the shore was bruised."

LONDON DISPATCHES

Throw Little Additional Light on the Situation.

London, March 23.—With the exception of the official dispatches no news has reached London of the latest bombardment of Port Arthur. The Japanese legation has nothing to communicate.

News is received from New Chwang that a south wind is dispersing the ice points, which means the beginning of active operations that at last will reveal the carefully concealed Japanese plan of campaign.

According to a St. Petersburg correspondent, the Russian government has privately informed the senators that since the outbreak of the war exactly 100,000 troops have been forwarded to the far East by the Siberian railway. In last night's Gazette the board of trade, in publishing a list of the articles declared as contraband of war, warns the masters of British ships that they must not resist being stopped or searched by warships of the belligerents for contraband.

A Seoul correspondent, cabling under date of March 22, reports the rising of a mob of Koreans against Japanese soldiers at Samung, north of Gensan. The Japanese dispersed the mob, killing five men and wounding twenty.

Unconfirmed rumors from Chefoo and New Chwang speak of bombardments of Port Arthur on March 13 and March 17, five Europeans and many Chinese being killed in the former, and two guns being dismantled and fifty soldiers killed in the latter attack. A Shanghai correspondent says a recent arrival from Port Arthur declares the Russians recovered fifteen Japanese torpedoes from the harbor unexploded because in their excitement the Japanese forgot to withdraw the safety pegs.

Executed Korean Conspirators.

Seoul, March 23.—Of thirteen Koreans, formerly military students in Japan, who were accused of conspiring against the life of the emperor and crown prince for the purpose of enthroning Prince Euiwha, who is now studying in America, three have been executed, and the remainder summoned to appear before a special tribunal.

Providing Against Siege.

St. Petersburg, March 23.—The Russians are continuing preparations for a prospective siege of Port Arthur by rushing large quantities of supplies to that point.

A STOCK DIVIDEND

Follows the New Plan of Northern Securities Company to Do Business.

PROMOTERS PLEASED

After the Reorganization Meeting Hill and Harriman Sauntered Off Arm in Arm.

J. Pierpont Morgan Didn't Say Anything, but He Looked His Pleased.

New York, March 23.—Following a day of great excitement in the stock market and numerous conferences among the leading financial interests, the new plan of the Northern Securities Co. was made public last evening. In substance it provides for a stock dividend of 99 per cent, this to be effected by a reduction of that amount in the capital stock of the securities company.

For every share of Northern Security stock surrendered the company will deliver $39.27 stock of the Northern Pacific Railway company and $30.17 of the Great Northern Railway company. The shares of the Northern Pacific company which were taken over by the Northern Securities at 115, and those of Great Northern at 180, will be distributed on this basis. The other assets of the Security company consisting chiefly of its Chicago, Burlington & Quincy holdings and Northern Pacific coal lands, will remain in the treasury of the company until some plan for their distribution has been evolved. Official notice of a new plan, which is signed by President Hill, was sent to Northern Security stockholders in a circular letter.

The new plan was formally adopted at a meeting of the directors which began in the morning and lasted until well into the afternoon. Throughout the day, when Northern Securities shares were booming on the curb and its affiliated stocks and the Pacifics, chiefly Union Pacific, were advancing by leaps and bounds on the stock exchange, the air was full of rumors, some of them of an alarming character. Dealings in Union Pacific common aggregated over 40 per cent of the total outstanding issue. It was declared in various quarters that the Hill-Morgan party had for some reason deemed it necessary to buy heavily into this stock. Large amounts of Southern Pacific shares also changed hands. After the close of the market a long conference was held at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. Messrs. Hill and Harriman left the Morgan banking house arm in arm and apparently in the best of spirits. Both declined to make any statement beyond saying that a perfect understanding had been reached all around. Mr. Hill denied that there had been any differences respecting the dissolution plan. Mr. Morgan and his partners had no comment to make, but Mr. Morgan seemed pleased with the day's events.

Still After Boodlers.

Capases were placed in the hands of the sheriff for the arrest. It is said, of three individuals. No names were made public.

Habib Ullah Khan, the ameer of Afghanistan, was born in 1872 and succeeded to the throne on the death of his father, Abdur Rahman Khan, Oct. 1, 1901.

SLOW PROGRESS

House Takes Its Time to the Post-office Bill.

Washington, March 23.—Outside of a few routine matters, the house of representatives devoted the entire day yesterday to further discussion of the postoffice appropriation bill, but disposed of only one page of the bill. Mr. Butler, of Pennsylvania, endeavored unsuccessfully to have passed an amendment designed to transfer back to the office of the first assistant postmaster general jurisdiction of the free delivery and rural delivery service, which caused Mr. Moon, of Tennessee, the ranking minority member of the committee to administer a rebuke to those members who are trying to take from the fourth assistant certain duties given to him under law. He said there was a motive behind it all, and that certain members, chafing under the recent report of the department, are seeking to punish Bristow for discovering frauds in another bureau of the department.

An amendment by Mr. Tawney, of Minnesota, which was agreed to, prohibits the postmaster general from ordering out of postoffices telephone companies other than the Bell company. An amendment by Mr. C. B. Landis, of Indiana, prohibiting the further rental of cancelling machines, was adopted after a spirited debate. The senate spent the greater part of the day on the Indian appropriation bill.

Criminal Negligence Charged.

New York, March 23.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the collapse of the Burlington hotel by which twenty-one persons lost their lives, has returned a verdict in which Eugene F. Allison, one of the owners of the building, and the contracting firm of Pole & Schwandtner are held to have been guilty of criminal negligence. Warrants for the arrest of the three men have been issued.

Treaty Meets Opposition.

Washington, March 23.—An extension of the Isle of Pines treaty is under consideration today by the committee on foreign relations. Great opposition to the treaty has been manifested and the impression is general that final action will not be taken on the treaty at the present session. It is expected that before the next session of congress a new treaty will be negotiated.

Lightning Claims Two.

Vincennes, Ind., March 23.—William F. Cunningham and William B. Opp, farmers, living a few miles east of here, were killed instantly by a bolt of lightning during a storm. The horses which they were driving were also killed.

Has Your Hair Any Life?

IS it faded, gray, harsh and lifeless—full of dandruff and irritation?

Rexall "93" HAIR TONIC

contains hair life, the vital element upon which healthy hair thrives, and so cures dandruff, grows fine hair, and brings back youthful color, without being a dye or stain.

"You certainly can rely on my telling all my friends about Rexall '93' Hair Tonic for the hair. My hair was thick enough but appeared lifeless, no color, just a dead black appearance, and gray hairs were beginning to appear. I suppose it was the dandruff from which I was badly troubled. One of your testimonials told about the same hair trouble as mine, so I used '93' Tonic. My hair now is jet black all over, glossy and abundant, with a curling tendency, and my scalp is free from dandruff. As a dressing it is splendid.—BEATRICE SILVERA, 189 West 136th Street, New York City.

A WORD OF COMFORT

To the Distressed.

Fortunately for those suffering with Rheumatism in all its various forms, including Sore Joints, Sore Muscles, and Sore Feet, a remedy has been discovered by modern science which in every instance effects a speedy and positive cure. This new remedy is founded on scientific principles which are acknowledged by the medical world as the only correct treatment for Rheumatic or Neuralgic troubles. Medicines taken internally rarely ever effect a cure without upsetting the stomach. As a rule, they injure the digestive organs, shatter the nerves, and in many instances the patient contracts a drug habit which leads eventually to a decline of the physical and mental forces.

Paracamp is the new remedy and it is a departure from the antiquated methods. Paracamp enters into the system through the natural channels, namely, the pores of the skin. When applied it opens the pores and allows the healing, soothing oils to penetrate the sore, inflamed membranes and muscles, removes the congestion and draws out the fever and inflammation, by inducing sweating. This is the only treatment that can be endorsed by science, and is guaranteed to cure even the most obstinate cases of Rheumatic Swellings if used as directed. Paracamp can be procured at drug stores in 25 cent, and 50 cent, and $1.00 bottles. Write for book of testimonials, sent free. The Paracamp Company Louisville, Ky., U. S. A.

SEYMOUR BUSINESS

The business interests of Seymour seem on the eve of a general advance. The factories are all running and giving employment to many citizens. There are ten corporations or firms with a capitalization of $30,000 or over. There are seven more with capital stock from $10,000 to $25,000 and several between $5,000 and $10,000 capitalization. The total capitalization of Seymour business interests which depend upon a market elsewhere for their output amounts to about $650,000.

Besides the manufacturing interests there are three banking institutions, the First National capitalized at $100,000; the Seymour National at $100,000 and the Jackson County Loan and Trust Co. at $25,000.

The merchants of Seymour are carrying large stocks of goods in their respective lines. They supply the retail trade for miles around, just as Seymour's factory products are sent to all quarters of the globe. The merchants are determined to give the best values for the money to be obtained anywhere and to make this city the centre of trade for all this part of the state. Fair and honest dealing is the motto among Seymour's stores, a spirit which always wins a liberal share of trade.

Political Gossip.

John H. Kamman has concluded to be a candidate for trustee of Jackson township subject to the republican township primary. Mr. Kamman has a large acquaintance and is held in high esteem. He is well qualified for the duties of the office and is a man of unquestioned integrity and would make a capable trustee.

The democratic bosses of the Third ward got together last night and decided on J. Newt. Gibson and John R. Buhner as candidates for council. No other democrats need apply in that ward.

E. C. Richards and Jerry McOsler, candidates for sheriff, are spending about all their time with Seymour democrats this week.

John W. Downing, John M. Murray and L. C. Baughman, three candidates for commissioner, were in town today drumming for votes.

If the democrats nominate Hearst, the cartoonists of his yellow papers will have a great opportunity.

PORT ARTHUR has been captured again by the Japanese according to morning dispatches. They will probably be a denial tomorrow.

WESNER can read a dispatch from Hammond and take cheer. The democratic candidate there, who made a house to house canvas and fought his party bosses, won the nomination.

THERE are some democrats on the south side who are not at all pleased. They think they are entitled to something and are on the eve of springing a candidate for one of the principal offices. They think the bosses have treated them badly.

SEYMOUR seems to be the battle ground of the democratic candidates these last few days before the county primary. The candidates for sheriff have been especially busy here this week. The impression seems to be that Richards and McOsler will about break even in this township. Dodds will get some votes here but probably not so many as the other two candidates. The auditor's race is another three cornered fight and each candidate is telling his friends that he will be it. This is probably a closer race than some observers seem to think. Price and Heller are making a quiet canvas for treasurer and each seems confident of winning. But the most exciting race of all is between Wood and Munden for joint senator. There is a race. And how lovely they are towards each other.

SAYERS—L. Jay Sayers, one of Crothersville's most promising and popular young men, died at 4 o'clock Friday morning after a brief illness. He was the son of the well known business man, Smith Sayers. He was sixteen years old, born and reared in this place. He was a bright student just completing his second year in high school. By his genial and cheerful disposition, Jay had, during his short life, made a host of close friends. He had acted as correspondent for various papers and proved himself a good writer. He was in his apparent good health until Tuesday night when he began feeling bad, and rapidly grew worse. Wednesday local physicians worked all night with him. Thursday a physician from Louisville was summoned, who pronounced the case too far developed, appendicitis, for a successful operation. The remains were viewed Sunday with a large crowd of friends, neighbors and schoolmates, after which they were interred in the Crothersville cemetery at 11 o'clock. The bereaved family who are stricken with grief have the sympathy of the entire town and community.

In the last analysis nobody knows but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Excellent progress is being made with the test well being drilled east of Seymour on G. A. Robertson's farm by the Seymour Oil and Gas Company. Thos. REV. GEORGE W. RULAND.

Restored to Health by Vinol and Strongly Indorses It.

W. F. Peter Drug Co. say Such Letters Justify Their Strong Claims for Vinol.

Prominent men from all parts of the country are endorsing our Vinol, and strong testimonial letters from four ministers of the gospel and several physicians have been received during a week. Such unsolicited testimony as this is the best proof of merit any medicine can have.

The Rev. George W. Ruland of Keene, N. H., writes: "I have used your cod liver oil preparation, Vinol, as a tonic, and I do not believe that there is any other medicine that can equal it. It built me up and strengthened me so that I was enabled to do very exacting work. Vinol has done for me more than was claimed for it."

We, W. F. Peter Drug Co., declare to the people of Seymour that there is no other preparation known to medicine that has the healing, strengthening power which Vinol has, and if it fails to create strength for run-down debilitated people, old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness; or if it fails to cure a hacking cough, chronic cold, throat or bronchial trouble, or to make those who are too thin, fat rosy and healthy, we will return every cent paid us for it.

Is there a sick, ailing or aged person in Seymour who can afford to ignore this generous offer? W. F. Peter Drug Co.

An Old Fashioned Spelling Match.

Probably Buncoed.

Two weeks ago a well dressed stranger arrived in the city and visited several local physicians and showed them a handsome cabinet with twenty bottles. For four dollars he agreed to send a cabinet and the bottles filled as ordered. He took orders for several cabinets saying they would be sent by a Chicago company, but they have not arrived.

Among the doctors who gave orders are H. Herr, C. F. Wall and A. I. Donaldson. They took no receipts and now think they were buncoed.—Washington Gazette.

Duggins on Trial.

The taking of evidence in the trial of Jerry Duggins was begun at Terre Haute Tuesday. The husband of the murdered woman was examined among other witnesses. The confession made by Duggins after the murder was introduced as evidence. The defendant's plea is insanity.

Duggins wears a new suit of clothes and has been cleaned up so he scarcely looks like himself. He listens closely to the evidence.

CLEAR THE SITUATION

Miners' Scale Signed and Tension Is Relieved.

Indianapolis, March 23.—The final signing of the contract between the miners and operators for a two-years' scale agreement has relieved the tension about the headquarters of the miners organization in this city. For days previous to the referendum vote in the locals there was great uneasiness expressed by national officers over the outcome. When the miners convention refused to accept the compromise offered by the operators and turned down their leaders on the proposition naturally there was a great deal of feeling that there was danger ahead. Now all has been amicably settled. The miners' confidence in the wisdom of the course planned by their officers has been evidenced in their voting. The operators are glad, too, that an industrial struggle has been averted. Even the politicians are glad that the issue of a great strike is not to overshadow the great campaign that is just opening.

SOME STRICT RULES

Laid Down for the Regulation of Teachers Examinations.

The county superintendents over the state have received instructions from the state superintendent to observe strict regulations in conducting examinations. He finds that manuscripts sent him occasionally contain evidence of fraud. Now and then he finds answers to be identical which suggests that two applicants sitting side by side have been copying. He advises that steps be taken to prevent this.

He further calls attention to complete identification of unknown applicants. The instruction to the county superintendent is that the applicant must be introduced by some one known to both the applicant and the superintendent. Another rule to be observed is one calling for a certificate of good moral character.

RHEUMATISM

NOT A SKIN DISEASE.

It is natural to rub the spot that hurts, and when rheumatic pains are shooting through the joints and muscles and they are inflamed and sore, the sufferer is apt to turn to liniments and plasters for relief; and while such treatment may quiet the pain temporarily, no amount of rubbing or blistering can cure Rheumatism, because it is not a skin disease, but is in the blood and all through the system, and every time you are exposed to the same conditions that caused the first attack, you are going to have another, and Rheumatism will last just as long as the poison is in the blood, no matter what you apply externally. Too much acid in the blood is one cause of Rheumatism; stomach troubles, bad digestion, weak kidneys and torpid liver are other causes which bring on this painful disease, because the blood becomes tainted with the poisonous matter which these organs fail to carry out of the system. Certain secret diseases will produce Rheumatism, and of all forms this is the most stubborn and severe, for it seems to affect every bone and muscle in the body. The blood is the medium by which the poisons and acids are carried through the system, and it doesn't matter what kind of Rheumatism you have, it must be treated through the blood, or you can never get permanently rid of it. As a cure for rheumatic troubles S. S. S. has never been equalled. It doesn't inflame the stomach and ruin the digestion like Potash, Alkalies and other strong drugs, but tones up the general health, gently stimulates the sluggish organs, and at the same time antitoxins and filters out of the blood all poisonous acids and effete matter of every kind; and when S. S. S. has restored the blood to its natural condition, the painful, feverish joints and the sore and tender muscles are immediately relieved.

Our special book on Rheumatism will be mailed free to those desiring it. Our physicians will cheerfully answer all letters asking for special information or advice, for which no charge is made.

SSS

UNABLE TO SLEEP AT NIGHT.
Sidney, Ohio, August 26, 1903.
A few months ago I was feeling weak and run down and unable to get sleep at night. I felt extremely bad, and also had rheumatic pains in my joints and muscles. The medicine I used gave me only temporary relief at best; so seeing S. S. S. highly recommended for such troubles, I began its use, and after taking it for some time was well pleased with the result. It did away with the rheumatic pains, gave me refreshing sleep and built up my general system, giving me strength and energy. It is a good medicine, without a doubt, and I take pleasure in endorsing it.

The Effective Remedy

WASHINGTON, IOWA, April 4, 1903.

I was troubled for over a year with so scanty a flow that it was virtually suppression. A heavy cold superinduced this condition and nothing I did seemed to help me. The only effective remedy I ever found was Wine of Cardui. Within two weeks I felt the good effects of the medicine and after I had used 18 bottles in all I was as healthy and regular as any woman could wish to be.

My sister used it while expecting to become a mother and found that it made childbirth comparatively easy and after the child was born she found that it helped her to regain her strength.

The Travis Carter Co

Crafty Insurance Agent.

Springfield, Ill., March 23.—S. C. Sprague, of Bloomington, pleaded guilty in the United States district court to using the mails for a scheme to defraud, and was sentenced to one year in Chester penitentiary. Sprague, while agent for an accident insurance company of New York, made out applications for insuring fictitious persons, signing the names of fictitious physicians to the affidavits regarding injuries and signed fictitious notary public's names to papers. By this means he secured money which the company sent to the supposed injured persons.

A Tottering Government.

London, March 23.—The majority again fell very low in the house of commons, a motion from the Irish benches censuring the government's action with regard to Irish waterways being defeated by a majority of only sixteen. The figures were greeted with prolonged Irish cheers and a voice "you shall drink it to the dregs," while John Gordon Swift MacNeill, the member for South Down, amid laughter shouted "we've twisted your pigstails now."

World's Fair Commission Pays Proper Tribute to Hoosier Newspapers.

SUCCESS IS ASSURED

Indiana's Prominence at the World's Fair Will be Largely Due to Active Editorial Influence.

State Librarian Henry Will Make an Interesting Showing at Exposition.

Indianapolis, March 23.—As a frontispiece to the pamphlet issued by State Librarian Henry for the world's fair, giving the history of all the libraries in Indiana, State Librarian Henry has arranged to use pictures of William Macure and Andrew Carnegie. Macure established nearly 160 libraries in the state and Carnegie 39. The pamphlet will be distributed at the St. Louis exposition.

The Indiana commission after this week, will discontinue the literature that it has been sending out to the editors of the state. The last bulletin issued by the commission says that the fair has been so well advertised through the courtesy of the editors that its success, as far as Indiana is concerned, is assured.

ARSON TRIAL IN PROGRESS

Alleged Firebugs in Dubois County on Trial.

Jasper, Ind., March 23.—William Lytle, Amos Leffler and James Jones, indicted for arson, are on trial in the circuit court. It is alleged that they burned a dwelling and business house owned by William R. Fuller, at Hillham, this county. Chesley Chambers and family occupied the dwelling, and Mr. Fuller conducted a saloon in the business room. The buildings were destroyed one Sunday night, last October, while Chambers and family were absent from home. The state will attempt to show that William Lytle ordered Mr. Fuller not to sell intoxicants to his father. The latter retaliated by ordering that no intoxicants should be sold to his son, and this angered the defendant, and he made threats that the saloon would not stand two months. Shortly afterward it was consumed by fire. Jones and Leffler are held as co-defendants, it being alleged that they made remarks indicating that they had criminal knowledge of the burning.

It is the first arson case to be tried in this county for many years, and it will be bitterly contested. Fifty witnesses have been subpoenaed. This county, apparently, last summer, was the scene of action of a gang of barn burners. Fire succeeded fire in quick succession, and barn after barn was reduced to ashes. The last grand jury made a searching investigation, and the defendants named were indicted. Hillham is the chief town in Columbia township, and the people of the township are opposed to the saloon. It is understood that a remonstrance will be filed against a renewal of license to Mr. Fuller. Many of the influential residents of the township are bondsmen for the defendants.

Teachers Will Draw Crowd.

Warsaw, Ind., March 23.—The twenty-second annual meeting of the Northern Indiana Teachers' association, which will be held in this city and at Winona lake from April 7 to 9, will be attended by at least 4,000 teachers from the eight congressional districts which compose the field of the association, and preparations are now being made to entertain at least 5,000 persons.

Fixing Up Wrecked Bank.

Amboy, Ind., March 23.—Repairs are being made to the bank vault partially wrecked by safe blowers a few nights ago, during which the cashier was slightly wounded while driving the marauders away. Meanwhile business has resumed, the same as if there had not been an interruption. It is now said the vault contained $5,600, none of which was taken.

Another Runyon Suspect.

South Bend, Ind., March 23.—The authorities have arrested Edward Wagner, who was seen to exchange notes with Mrs. Charles Kreinick, under arrest, in connection with her husband, for having knowledge of the William Runyan murder, and because of the belief that Wagner, himself, has information valuable in the prosecution of the case.

Fixing Up Details.

Brazil, Ind., March 23.—Miners and operators of the block coal field are in session here to arrange for a final settlement of the scale for two years. While the scale was settled at Indianapolis, there are a number of details of a local nature that will have to be adjusted in the different districts. It is believed it will be a harmonious meeting.

Patient Jumps to Death.

Indianapolis, March 23.—Thomas McCarthy, aged thirty-five, a patient at the City hospital, killed himself while delirious by jumping over the railing of the second floor stairway into the hall below. He alighted on a radiator, breaking several ribs, and died within two hours.

If troubled with weak digestion, belching or sour stomach, use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will get quick relief. For sale C. W. Milhous.

Every time you cough take 5 drops of Brazilian Balm. 50 doses 25 cents.

TROUBLE IS PROMISED

A Big Split in Sight for Indiana Republicans.

Indianapolis, March 23.—The Hearst boom is the only real live article in Indiana Democratic politics today and the indications are that before the boom is killed off it will cause trouble for certain people. That the boom is to be killed off it can be accomplished by the reorganizing element is a foregone conclusion. The scotching of the snake, however, promises to make interesting news. Hearst is by no means a slouch when it comes to organizing things. He is preparing to go to work in earnest in this state. That is where the fun is promised. He is already agitating things in vigorous style and by the time his campaign is on in earnest there is little doubt that the reorganizers will have their hands full to prevent his capturing the Indiana delegation. Republican leaders are more than pleased with the turn of events. They believe that by the time the fight is over the Democrats will be split in two factions that never will unite. The work of the reorganizers which promised good results a few months ago and which were worrying the state managers will thus go for nothing. If Hearst is defeated the Bryan wing will be hopelessly driven away. The idea of Hearst as the Democratic candidate is very pleasing to the Republican leaders. They laugh and say he would be a joke. Hearst could not capture within 50,000 of the votes given Bryan four years ago, they say, and they are only wishing secretly that his nomination should be accomplished. They are not counting on any such good luck, however, and are preparing as if for a real fight.

Indianapolis is just now enjoying a mild sensation of the kind that gave Crawfordsville so much prominence a few weeks ago when the Gregg case was on trial there. This is in the hearing of the suit of Sarah Cox against John Wright from whom she is seeking $1,000 damages for breach of promise. During the trial some of the plaintiff's letters have been read on the stand in which the love passages would do credit to a romantic actor. They show conclusively that the woman in the case, at least, was suffering from a severe case of infatuation. Wright, on the other hand, does not seem to have evinced the same fondness for the woman. Hence the trouble. Since the trial began a gaping crowd of listeners has thronged the court room to listen to the testimony and glory in the sensational passages. Wright says that the woman proposed to him and her letters would seem to indicate that her affection was strong enough to prompt her to anything. She, on the other hand, contends she did not give way to her feelings until after the man had won her heart by promises of marriage.

The death of Worth M. Wright in this city yesterday by the accidental falling of a huge piece of structural iron which formed the cornice over the Merchants' National bank has taken away from Indianapolis a man who was one of the characters of the town. Mr. Wright was an enthusiast at anything he took up. He never did things half way. He had a number of hobbies and he rode them consistently. His greatest enthusiasm was for free silver. He was originally a Republican but joined the Democratic party in 1896 on the silver issue. From that time to the day of his death he was a consistent worker in the ranks of Democracy. On the subject of 16 to 1 he was a radical of the most pronounced type. He could never be made to see that his monetary views could not be carried out and to his last hour was ready to undertake an argument to convince anyone who would listen that he was right on the proposition.

"DO IT TO-DAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'til tomorrow what you can do today," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for IT-TO-DAY—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.
